Plastic Part Design for Injection Molding

Plastic injection molding is widely used for manufacturing a variety of parts. Molding conditions or process parameters play a decisive role that affects the quality and productivity of plastic products.

General frameworks for optimization of plastic injection

9 Frequently Used Calculations 9.1 Intensification Ratio. The intensification ratio is a factor which is used to convert the hydraulic pressure being applied to the hydraulic injection cylinders into the actual pressure being applied to the polymer melt at the front of the screw.

Transfer molding (BrE moulding) is a manufacturing process where casting material is forced into a mold. Transfer molding is different from compression molding in that the mold is enclosed [Hayward] rather than open to the fill plunger resulting in higher dimensional tolerances and less environmental impact. Compared to injection molding, transfer molding uses higher pressures to uniformly ...
